

Hatching At Home: Here is everything you need to know about how the Hatching At Home Program works.

Price: The Cost is $106 to do the program, and when you sign up you will need to pay a $31 deposit to hold your spot. You also need to bring a security deposit of $175. Deposit must be check or cash. Please make check payable to Quiver Farm Projects. Your balance on pick up date to do the program will be $75. Sign up Genius does a charge for this service. Our apologies but people started just not showing up and wasting the eggs, so we had to add the deposit to discourage that.

What You Do: You pick up on the day you signed up for. You care for the eggs until the Friday before they hatch, Saturday and Sunday you let them sit and stay warm. Monday/Tuesday they hatch and then you enjoy them for the week. You are to bring them back the Friday after they hatch preferably between 12-3. If you cannot get to us before 3pm on Friday, we are there until 6pm now for those who work or have traveling issues. However please be patient as we do not have as many farmers available during that time.

Care of the eggs: Eggs must be kept warm, moist, and turned to have a good hatch. If not kept warm the hatch will be delayed. Care of the eggs entails you turning them three times a day and adding water once a day in the evening.

On Pick Up Day: You come to the farm with your two payments. Your security deposit will be given back when everything is returned on time and in the physical condition it was given. If everything is not returned by the agreed upon time, then you lose your deposit. When you arrive at the farm follow the signs, hand in your payments, and receive your kit. The kit includes your eggs, incubator, and brooder box with everything you will need for the chicks/ducks after they hatch. As well as an older printed manual to guide you along the way. But there are digital more current manuals on the Facebook group under "Files". We do not guarantee when they hatch, how many hatch or their health. On Mondays you can pick up between 10-5:30 and Tuesdays are 10-4:30. If we have left overs we will post them on here and pick up is typically Wednesday 10-2.

The Set up: First thing is to plug the incubator in to start it getting warm (goal is 99.5 degrees) Once temp is up, place the eggs inside on their side and out of the egg carton. Then fill up trough 1 with room temperature water. Temperature in the incubator will go down but will go back up shortly. When light turns off it is set. Every time you open the lid the light will turn back on indicating it has started to heat up again. You fill trough one for both chicks and ducks. Ducks will require trough 2 to be filled Friday before the weekend, because they require more humidity near the end.

HOW TO SIGN UP.

1. You need to Join the Hatching At Home Group first. This is the easiest way for us to keep track of everyone doing to program as well as it is a place to ask questions from other hatchers, watch instructional videos and share your experience with other hatchers. But if you need our assistance please Facebook message us at the Quiver Farm Projects Facebook page.
2. See the availability and reserve your spot by going to this link!

3. Answer and fill out all requested information in signup genius.

There is no cancelation list. You can request to swap with someone on the Sign Up Genius. Chicks/Ducks go to local farmers on Friday, which is why we need them back that day. As well as we need the equipment back for the next round of pickups and we must clean everything. Understand, we have limited staff so sticking to our guidelines is crucial for our farm to run smoothly.

Please do not ask to keep them longer because you can't part with them, we have these rules/guidelines in place for a good reason.

If you would like to purchase the chicks yourself and live out a dream, please talk to Rebekah on pick up day. Chicks or ducks are $3 each, minimal of 6 purchased. If you have a flock and are adding to it, you need to speak to the owner. We do not sex the chicks/ducks. NOTICE If purchasing less than 6 price could be more.

FAQ:

No, you can't keep them longer, we need them back Friday.

We do not guarantee that they will hatch because we are not the ones transporting or setting up. We do not guarantee when they hatch, their health when they hatch or the amount that will hatch.

No, we do not euthanize the chicks, they go to local farmers on Friday afternoon and are raised out. Primarily for meat but also for eggs.

Yes, you can do a card transaction, but you will have to do it the day of pick up and it will take a little longer. As well as there is 3% charge. We do not take PayPal or Venmo.

Yes, you can change pick up dates. Just let us know in advance. Times do not matter to us either, as long as you come between the hours, we are open.
